Re: Project 220 Update

Dear Ellery,

Thank you so much for your understanding about the syllabus approval. I am currently struggling to establish effective working arrangements with the decryption consultants, as one only just set up their email and the others have completely opposite communication styles.

I want to make sure that there are people on your end (as well as mine) actively monitoring the Crypto-Collegium. Although I can manage the security measures well enough on my own, the limited bureaucratic competence of the consultants has me worried. I do not feel I have sufficient resources to handle a breach like the one with the HUD. I've been in contact with someone from the FBI who's helped brief me on their end, but sometimes it's hard to tell what's NSA and what's FBI and what's the Cybersecurity division.

Please let me know if you have any further questions or concerns about syllabus approval.

Best,
